DOCUMENTS

1. STATEMENTS OF ASSOCIATION

The settling group's statements of association are set out below. These are statements of the settling group's particular cultural, spiritual, historical and traditional association with identified areas.

Areas within Aotea Conservation Park

This conservation park holds numerous sites of significance to Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea.

Hirakimatā area (part Aotea Conservation Park) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-02)

Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea are deeply connected to this area and revere Hirakimatā as our sacred maunga. The maunga is significant because it heralded the foreboding omen depicting the death of Rehua, one of our founding ancestors. The maunga is also central to the emergence of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea as a people in our own right with a distinct through the relentless wave of raupatu undertaken by Rangitūangahuru who was Rehua's son, demarcating the centre of our rohe on Aotea.

Komahunga area (part Aotea Conservation Park and part Harataonga Recreation Reserve) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-03)

This hill is located on the eastern coast of Aotea, on the rugged coast of Whakatautuna ki Whiritoa. Komahunga has ancient rock walls and evidence of gardening activities, showing our Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna had use of this area to produce food to service our main pā in the area, known as Rehua.

Koroiti area (part Aotea Conservation Park and part Harataonga Recreation Reserve) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-04)

Koroiti Bay was the site of a very large pa, just north of Awana Bay. The pā site was strategically significant as it provided shelter for waka from the prevailing northerly winds. Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea also gathered kaimoana and dyes from the bay area, and have continued to seasonally harvest manu oi from the area in contemporary times.

Okupe area (part Aotea Conservation Park) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-07)

Today this area is mistakenly spelt 'Okupu'. This area's traditional name, Okupe, was given in recognition of the voyager Kupe, who travelled to the area and berthed his waka here. It is the area around, and including 'Blind Bay' where a kainga known as Kawa was occupied by our tupuna. Okupa was an area occupied by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea until the late 1840s. The main Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea pā in this area was Te O a Kupe. The pā protected access to the obsidian sources of Te Ahumata, and also the Okupe-Kaitoke portage.

Poutekorua area (part Aotea Conservation Park and part Tryphena Scenic Reserve) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-10)

This is a maunga within the park Aotea Conservation Park overlooking the stretch of coast at the northern entrance of Tryphena Harbour. It is one of the southernmost maunga of our iwi. The name of this maunga is a treasure to us and reflects our heritage and our interests in the southern part of Aotea. It was near this maunga, that Rangitūangahuru, the son of Rehua, planted two Pou to embed the interests of our people in this southern region of Aotea.

DOCUMENTS

1: STATEMENTS OF ASSOCIATION

Rangitawhiri tuturu area (part Aotea Conservation Park and part Tryphena Scenic Reserve) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-10)

Rangitawhiri tuturu, or Shoal Bay, near Tryphena Bay in the south of Aotea, was traditionally a home to Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna before our people were moved to the reservation in the North of Aotea. It was the site of a notable historical battle between our people and another iwi. Historically there was a karaka grove, cultivation, and kainga here occupied by our people up until the 1850s. We used this place to welcome prominent guests from the mainland.

We gathered mahinga kai here and to this day we undertake an annual hikoi to affirm our relationship to this land and look after the whenua and taonga. Many artefacts and koiwi have been reburied in this area.

Te Paparahi area (part Aotea Conservation Park) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-08)

This area at the north of Aotea, covering the mountainous region north of Katherine Bay, holds significant cultural, historical and social value to Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea. There are many wahi tapu, historical battle sites and ancient urupā here dating back to the 16th century. Te Paparahi is one of the last areas of pristine ecological and heritage value on Aotea.

Wairahi Area (Wairaki Forest Sanctuary and part of the Aotea Conservation Park) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-13)

This area contains a number of sites of importance to Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea. It was historically home to important Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna from time to time including Te Huaroa and Ngawaka.

A terraced hill and remnants of a pā site are located at the top of the main ridge between Whangaparapara and Wairahi. Large storage pits, located on the southern coastline of the sanctuary, were used by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna to store harvest.

To the south of Kiwiiriki, within the sanctuary, is the long inlet known as Wairahi. This site is an old kainga that was occupied by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea whanui.

Wairahi was occupied by the Ngawaka whanau until the 1850s and was the birthplace of the prominent Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea Wahine Rangatira Raihi Miraka Nohomotu Ngawaka Rewhiti. It has always been seen as a Wairua place as it is associated with the Turehu Whanui.

Whangapoua area (part Aotea Conservation Park and part Okiwi Recreation Reserve) (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-12)

DOCUMENTS

1: STATEMENTS OF ASSOCIATION

Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna once inhabited the Whangapoua area, utilizing the local resources, and maintaining numerous pā and kainga. Historic pā in the area included Te Tahawai, Kaikai, Whiritoa, and Te Kawau. Kainga existed at Ohineuru, Orehua, Okiwi and Waikaro. Whangapoua was the site of a significant battle in the late 1830s between Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea with their allies and another invading tribe. Whangapoua was also significant as a point of passage to Rakitu Island, which was traditionally occupied and cultivated by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea, and continues to be considered tapu.

Fitzroy Bay Landing Recreation Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-01)

The landing area in the harbour was originally named Rarohara by the Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna Turi in the 14th century. For Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea this area marked the bountiful waters of Rarohara and produced plentiful harvests for our people. There was a significant pā and kainga near to the waka landing on the mainland.

Fitzroy Local Purpose Public Utility Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-01)

Bordering this reserve is a landing area in the harbour traditionally called Rarohara. It was named by the Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna Turi in the 14th century. For Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea the harbour marked the bountiful waters of Rarohara and produced plentiful harvests for our people. There was a significant pā and kainga near to the waka landing on the mainland.

Kotuku Point Scenic Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-05)

This area marks the northern entrance to Te whaanga o Rarohara (Port Fitzroy). Many Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea kainga were located there. The area is known for the large headland pā called Te Kotuku which was constructed by our tupuna Te Rangitūangahuru. The rocky outcrop of the Kotuku Scenic Reserve also holds Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea kōiwi and is considered to be wāhi tapu.

Medlands Wildlife Management Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-06)

The area was cultivated and used to gather mahinga kai. The area was occupied by our people on a seasonal basis, and an old pā and kainga of our people was located within the area. Medlands (Oruawhāro) is closely associated to the tupuna Ruawhāro. The prominent wahi tapu site Waitemataku, where Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea won a battle against another iwi, is located near at the southern end of Medlands beach.

Omahungaiti Bay Marginal Strip (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-03)

Omahungaiti Bay was an important source of kaimoana and provided food for the main pā in the area, Rehua. The use of the waka to move up and down the coastline between the bays marked the interests of our tupuna along the coastline. The coastline was the quickest means of transportation.

Onepoto Historic Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-08)

The Onepoto Historic Reserve is a well-known historical burial site for the people of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea with many of the tribe's members buried there including prominent kuia such as Raihi. In 1894, following the shipwreck of the SS Wairapa at Aotea, Raihi allowed the bodies of those who died in the wreck to be buried at Onepoto Bay until their bodies could be retrieved and reinterred elsewhere.

1: STATEMENTS OF ASSOCIATION

Oruawharo Creek Government Purpose Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-09)

Our people traditionally maintained a pā and kainga in the area, and the creek was traditionally used by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea whanui to access water and maintain gardens.

Oruawharo Creek Recreation Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-09)

Looking to 'Wai o Ruawharo', this is the place where the waka Takitimu was anchored. Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea descend from the Crew of this waka. Ruawharo the Tohunga on Takitimu was the first from his waka to step onto the shore. He named the Bay 'Te Wai o Ruawharo' (the waters of Ruawharo). This area also contains a large burial site where koiwi were moved from the beach to be reinterred in higher ground, protecting them from being washed out to sea. It is one of the largest archaeological sites of significance containing koiwi.

The area borders the wahi tapu site, the stream called Waitemataku in Māori. It is here that our tupuna Te Rangitūangahuru and his allies were victorious in one of the final battles with another iwi.

Oruawharo Marginal Strip (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-09)

The area was cultivated and used to gather mahinga kai. The area was occupied by our people on a seasonal basis, and our people had an old pā and kainga there. Medlands (Oruawharo) is closely associated to the tupuna Ruawharo. The prominent wahi tapu site Waitemataku, where Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea won a battle against another iwi, is located near at the southern end of Medlands beach.

Overtons Beach Marginal Strip (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-04)

Overtons Beach Marginal Strip is in Harataonga Bay, an old occupation site of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea, and in particular of the Te Ure Whakapiko hapū. It was one of the homes of Te Ikamimirua, the son of Rehua and Waipahihi and founding ancestor of this hapū, and is the area where he is buried. Harataonga was a special place for kaimoana of all kinds and the valley behind it contained some of the best traditional kumara cultivations. There are wāhi tapu sites in this area, including urupā at the southern end of the bay. Our tupuna continued to occupy the bay on a seasonal basis until permanent Pākehā settlement in the early 20th century, and thereafter continued to use traditional resources from the area. Haratonga holds special significance to the descendants of Hone Paama as this marks the last resting place of tupuna their tupuna Te Ikamimirua.

Ruahine area (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-11)

This area marks our connection to Manaia and the Aotea waka. The maunga Ruahine was named after the mokopuna of our tupuna Turi, captain of the Aotea waka, who visited Aotea a generation after Turi. Ruahine is the largest of the maunga in this range, in the south of Aotea, and borders our burial caves located across Matarehu.

Sandy Bay Marginal Strip (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-10)

According to Sandy Bay, or Te Wharangi, was the site of a significant battle involving Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna. It was also the location of a Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea seasonal settlement and contains a wāhi tapu site. It is a sheltered bay with a good fresh water supply and sandy beach.

SS Wairarapa Graves (Tapuwai Point) Historic Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-12)

This reserve contains the burial sites of some of those killed in the SS Wairarapa shipwreck. The land was owned at the time by Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea tupuna who allowed the bodies to be buried there. Historically we maintained a pā and kainga in this area.

Te Atamira Scenic Reserve (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-10)

This area marks the southern entrance to Rangitawhiri harbour. Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea history states that this area is guarded by Atamira, the highest maunga in the nearby range. This area illustrates where our Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea histories and whakapapa connections to te tai tonga o te motu o Aotea (Great Barrier Island) are embedded through our tupuna Manaia. We traditionally maintained a pā and kainga in this location, and had a lookout for taua approaching the harbour. The lookout was also a special place of ritual and contemplation for our rangatira from the time of our tupuna Te Rangituangahuru and was a favourite place of our tupuna rangatira Ranginui.

Whakatautuna Point Marginal Strip (as shown on deed plan OTS-126-04)

This is the highest point along Aotea's eastern coastline and was used as a defence site to observe any coastal waka movement from the north and south. This area is sheer cliff except for Whakatautuna, where there is steep access to the bay. The ridge then carries directly on to Harataonga beach.

There are many places of significance to Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea within this area, including several ancestral kainga and pa. Overlooking Omahungaiti and at the entrance to Whangapoua is Whiritoa, the impressive pā which was taken and occupied by our tupuna Rehua and later during the 1800s this pā site was occupied by tupuna Hone Paama.

Whakatautuna also features a valued paua nursery and a good cray-fishing coast. Even in recent times our people have seasonally harvested Manu Oi from this area.

NGĀTI REHUA - NGĀTIWAI KI AOTEA LETTER OF RECOGNITION

Please accept my congratulations on the passing of the Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea Claims Settlement Act 20xx. In accordance with the requirements of this legislation, and the Deed of Settlement concluded between the Crown and Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea, the Ministry for Primary Industries (the Ministry) now extends to you this Letter of Recognition.

First, this letter sets out how the Ministry and Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea will work constructively together, in partnership, to fully implement the Crown's customary fisheries obligations. These obligations arise from the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992 and the Fisheries Act 1996 (the Fisheries Act) and the Deed of Settlement signed between the Crown and Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea on [date].

Second, this letter sets out how Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea will be consulted on policy development and work that is led by the Ministry where these activities directly affect Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea's Area of Interest.

Tangata whenua input and participation

The Fisheries Act provides for the input and participation of tangata whenua in certain sustainability matters and decisions that concern fish stocks, and the effects of fishing on the aquatic environment. The Fisheries Act also provides that the responsible Minister, the Minister for Primary Industries, must have particular regard to kaitiakitanga when making decisions on those matters.

Recognition of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea as tangata whenua

The Ministry recognises Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea as tangata whenua, being iwi or hapū, within their Area of Interest. The Ministry acknowledges that Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea has an interest in the sustainable utilisation of all species of fish, aquatic life, and seaweed, administered under the Fisheries Act, within their Area of Interest.

effective input and participation of tangata whenua into fisheries management decisions, the Ministry has developed the Forum Fisheries Plans (FFP) strategy.

A central element of this strategy is the establishment of integrated Fisheries Management Area forums and the development of FFPs. This will help iwi bring together their commercial, non-commercial, and other fisheries goals at a forum level.

Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea's involvement in Iwi Fisheries Plans and National Fisheries Plans

The Ministry will ensure that the Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea Governance Entity - the trustees of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea Settlement Trust (the Trust) - has an opportunity to contribute to the development of an Iwi Fisheries Plan and FFP. The Ministry, within the resources available, may assist the Trust in developing these plans. This will ensure that the Trust's fisheries management objectives and priorities are given visibility and appropriate consideration in the development of any relevant FFP.

The Ministry will ensure that the Trust has an opportunity to participate in, and contribute to, any future engagement process which may be developed at a regional level or national level. The Ministry recognises that rāhui is a traditional use and management practice of Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea and may be put in place, within the Area of Interest, by the Trust.

Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea undertakes to inform the Ministry of the placing and the lifting of a rāhui by the Trust over their customary fisheries, and also the reasons for the rāhui.

The Ministry undertakes, within its resource capabilities, to inform a representative of any fishery stakeholder group that fishes in the area to which the rāhui has been applied (to the extent that such groups exist) of the placing and the lifting of a rāhui by the Trust over their customary fisheries.

Primary industries portfolio advice

Protecting and helping the primary sectors grow is a key role for the Ministry. Where the Area of Interest is directly affected by the development of policies and operational processes that are led by the Ministry in the area of fisheries and aquaculture; agriculture and forestry; and biosecurity, the Ministry will consult with the Trust as representatives of the Ngāti Rehua - Ngātiwai ki Aotea.

SCHEDULE 1

Description of Land:

North Auckland Land District

1.0000 hectares, more or less, being Section 1 SO 505083.

Conservation Values to be protected:

The intrinsic value of the natural resources on the Land, and the appreciation and enjoyment that may be derived by the public from the opportunity to visit that area. Visitors to the area include researchers, Department of Conservation staff, volunteers and members of the public.

Reserve Values to be protected:

The natural landscape amenity of the Land that is intertwined with the larger surrounding area of flat land, the connection with the remaining island landscape and the coast.

The natural environment values represented by the indigenous flora and fauna on the Land: A range of indigenous species of flora and fauna, many of which are threatened, are abundant in the area. The Land, and the entire island, is free from introduced reptiles and mammals, is relatively free of exotic plant pests, and is thought to be free of most exotic plant pest pathogens and exotic invertebrate pests.

The conservation and reserve values also include the following historic and archaeological values:

Hauturu has a rich history that incorporates elements of early Maori settlement and conservation history. Hauturu has been occupied by Maori from the times of early Polynesian settlement in the Auckland region through to 1894 when it became a nature reserve. Maraenui, on which the Land is located, is the only area of flat land on the island. The area has therefore been used extensively for cultivation both by Maori and Pakeha and contains excellent examples of the stone mound and alignment system used in Maori gardening.

Archaeological surveys of Hauturu have been generally well documented and contains structural and botanical remnants of early historic around Maraenui, including a stone garden system comprising of stone walls and mounds (New Zealand Archaeological association number S08/73), a stone mound (S08/72), clumps of taro (S08/244), and a pā site (S08/74).
